ORDER POLIO SHOTS DELAYED

Authorities Urge Patience; Facts To be Gathered

All mass inoculations of the Salk anti-polio vaccine were suspended Wednesday night in Contra Costa and Alameda Counties.

According to the office of Dr. Beryl Graham, assistant county health officer, the decision to stop the program was made on the recommendation of the Joint Committee of Public Health Officers and the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association's Public Health Committee.

THE COMMITTEES met Wednesday night. Following the meeting, they issued a statement which read:

"The Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association and the health officers of our two counties view with concern the conflicting reports which have been widespread.

"Premature decisions on the basis of rumor and incomplete evidence may set back a program which all of us hope will be a great boon to mankind.

"We cannot be sure at this time that any vaccine was responsible for any of the reported reactions. We are assured that every effort is being made to determine the facts.

"It is therefore the recommendation of this committee that all further mass inoculations be withheld until these final facts are available to the medical profession and the present doubts in the minds of the parents can be resolved."

THE COMMITTEES' statement referred to widespread anxiety on the part of persons throughout the county caused by reports this week that "between seeven and 12 'reactions' have resulted from inoculations with a batch of the vaccine from Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley.

That labcratory's vaccine was ordered withdrawn.

However, health authorities reported this county was using vaccine from the Eli Lilly Company in Indianapolis for inoculations of first and second graders.

The latter vaccine was reportedly approved for continued use and the shot program originally set up was continued.

THOUSANDS OF inquiries about the vaccine were received from anxious parents.

The committees then decided Wednesday night to stop the program until the apparent mixup can be resolved.

A spokesman for Dr. Graham in the County Health Department yesterday morning asked parents of those first and second graders already inoculated "not to be alarmed" by the order cancelling the program.

"We feel there is nothing to fear from the shots we have administered. But, due to the thousands of inquiries about the program and the rumors of 'defective' vaccine, we have decided to call a halt until all those matters can be definitely cleared up."

Authorities emphasized that the few reactions reported after the use of the first batch of Cutter vaccine "are no more than a mild polio infection, non-paralytic."

IT WAS REPORTED also that no evidence has been produced showing reactions were the result of the vaccine.

First and second grade students in the following school districts in this area received their first shots this week:

Orinda, Canyon, Moraga and Mt. Diablo districts (with the exception of Fair Oaks School)—Tuesday.

Walnut Creek—Wednesday.

The Lafayette School District inoculations were to have been given yesterday and today, but were cancelled, along with the Fair Oaks School schedule, by Wednesday night's order.

Bids to Be Called For West Bus Stop

Bids for construction of a bus loading strip at the Orinda Interchange will be opened "in a month or two," L. A. Weymouth, district engineer for the State Division of of Highways said yesterday.

The State Highway Commission on April 20 approved $15,000 for the work.

Weymouth said the strip will be constructed "between the right turn from Walnut Creek and the inner loop toward Oakland" just east of the overpass, for loading and unloading westbound buses.

He added plans are nearing completion and that after the bids are opened and the contract awarded, work would start. He estimated the job would take about two months to complete after actual construction starts.

The project has long been sought by the Contra Costa Commuters Association and the Orinda Chamber of Commerce.

Weymouth said eastbound buses will continue to use the stop in front of the Orinda Pharmacy.

Lucky Will Omit Tower at New Store in Orinda

Lucky Stores, Inc., has complied with the wishes of the Orinda Association by eliminating plans for a sign tower at its new store under construction at Moraga Highway and Golden Gate Road.

In a recent letter to the association's Planning Committee, Donald M. Murphy, sales promotion manager for the grocery-chain firm, wrote:

"Lucky Stores, Inc., is most happy to advise you that in our endeavor to cooperate to the fullest extent, we will omit the sign tower for our new store . . . When we learned of the desire of Orinda residents to preserve their 'rural character' in so far as new businesses are concerned, we were more than glad to go along with their desires."

Murphy's letter was in response to one from Chairman James Hupp of the Orinda Planning Committee, in which Hupp suggested that the firm reconsider its plans for a 50-foot-high revolving neon sign at the store here.

The Lucky Stores official had previously written to the association, asking approval of the sign.

Commission Overrules Hot Protests, Approves Moraga Valley Zone Plan

By DUANE MEYERS

A tumultous hearing on zoning of the Moraga Valley Tuesday night by the County Planning Commission in Martinez was capped with the shouted words of James Hupp, chairman of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee.

Hupp asserted, as the gavel came down, ending the hearing and adopting the plan:

"THIS IS THE worst fiasco I've ever seen!"

Hupp, among the opponents to the plan as approved by the commission, referred to:

1. The apparent confusion on the part of some of the commissioners on just what they had voted on.

2. The differences between the general (master) plan for Moraga, approved earlier in the evening by the commission, and the zoning plan which is to implement the general plan.

3. The approval by the commission of immediate zoning of a 100-acre district near Moraga townsite for controlled manufacturing.

THE LATTER POINT stirred the most opposition during the hearings on both the general plan and the zoning map. Some 150 persons jammed the meeting room.

At the outset of the general plan hearing, a letter from B. W. Booker, assistant state highway engineer, was read into the record.

Booker's letter suggested postponement on zoning of the area west of St. Mary's College until the western end of the proposed Shepherd Canyon freeway could be mapped out definitely.

Booker wrote that the route would probably be finalized in about nine months.

Included in the "west of St. Mary's College" area was a triangular-shaped area shown on the general plan as suggested for the controlled manufacturing, professional and administrative zones.

AFTER SOME discussion, the commission decided to approve the general plan, with the reservation that zoning be deferred on the triangular shaped area until the freeway route is definitely set.

This led to the hassle over the controlled manufacturing area when the zoning map was presented.

At that time, it became apparent the majority of the commissioners were not including the controlled manufacturing zone in the "deferred" category, but were planning to recommend it for immediate zoning.

However, Commissioner Arthur Young stated it was his understanding that controlled manufacturing was not to be allowed until further studies were made.

HE STATED emphatically that he was confused by the procedure, and said he voted for the general plan's adoption thinking the controlled manufacturing district was not to be a part of the plan at this time.

"I think that resolution (approving the general plan) was the unfortunate thing tonight," Young stated. "I'm not criticizing Mr. Walker (Deputy District Attorney Matthew Walker, who drafted the resolution) but that's what threw me," Young said.

Debates over the manufacturing zone were led by Bestor Robinson, representing the Utah Construction Company, and by the following opponents:

MRS. MILDRED FARRAR, representing the Contra Costa County Women's Planning Council, Henry Soubielle, co-chairman of the Emergency Committee for Master Planning, Joseph Zablocki, Gladys Schwatka, Edward Bisiar and Ed Clay, all of the latter group.

Robinson said, "There's a group of people who feel controlled manufacturing should never go into this area. The decision must be made on the evidence."

He said, "Utah will not foul its own nest," and cited printing plants and research offices as types of industry the company would try to bring into the area.

Robinson also argued that traffic problems caused by industry would be less than opponents charged, because the types of business Utah is planning "would not require heavy trucking."

Mrs. Farrar questioned Richard Stockwell, associate county planner, on the issue.

SHE ASKED, "Do you believe this controlled manufacturing zone should be developed before the freeway is decided upon and without further economic studies?"

Stockwell, who presented the general plan at last Friday's hearing, and who reviewed it briefly again Tuesday for the commission and the audience, answered, "No. I do not."

Soubielle charged, "Robinson seems to think they'll drop supplies into the area by parachute." He told the commission serious traffic problems would result on Moraga Highway if the controlled manufacturing zone is allowed.

Robinson stated, "There is no reason why the area west of Moraga Creek should not be zoned. It's between the creek and the hills and won't be cut by the freeway no matter which route is selected."

HE SAID UTAH is aiming for a group that includes "highly skilled labor" and mentioned the company is planning for homes in the $20,000-$30,000 bracket.

Opponents pleaded with the commission to defer zoning the manufacturing area until further studies are made.

Zablocki said, "I don't think the chairman of the Board of Supervisors or anyone else has a right to tell this commission to have a zoning plan ready by May 3. Don't be buffaloed."

Zablocki said he referred to the recent order by Chairman H. L. Cummings of the board of supervisors that the planning commission should have precise zoning findings on Utah's requests in the hands of the supervisors by May 3.

OTHER MEMBERS of the audience asked a delay. Gladys Schwatka, reviewing the legal aspects of planning in general, said, "This is the most incredible thing I've ever heard. You made up your minds before you held this hearing."

She told the commission it had no legal right to zone the area in the manner proposed, "without reference to the State Conservation and Planning Law."

Chairman Connors answered, "We have two attorneys on this board, you know. We're trying to follow them."

MRS. FARRAR asked the commission to "come to grips with the big problems of the county." She told the board there "is no source in your offices where one can go to find a statement of the big ideas and basic policy" on planning for the county.

She submitted suggestions on "the big ideas" of the county she said were developed by members of her planning group.

She said "The central portion of the county should be preserved for a low density and rural area."

She recommended:

1. MORAGA VALLEY should be zoned through an "interim" ordinance and "only that portion Utah wants developed immediately should be zoned."

2. Economic studies should be made, especially in reference to the manufacturing area proposal,

Objector Charges Hearing 'Farce,' Cites Commission

A charge that the County Planning Commission reached a decision on the resolution on zoning of Moraga Valley in a "closed hearing" before the public hearing Tuesday night, has been made.

According to Joseph Zablocki of the Emergency Committee for Master Planning in Contra Costa County, the resolution was "prepared beforehand," at an informal conference of the Planning Commission.

Zablocki said he and other members of his group attending the hearings in Martinez, arrived at the County Administration Building "about 7.30 p.m."

He said the commissioners were entering the drafting room when his group arrived.

He added the group in the drafting room was discussing the resolution to be introduced.

"We were not allowed in that room," Zablocki said. "We protested to Commissioners Elliott and Connors that the procedure was improper."

Zablocki stated, "I understand that the resolution later adopted (after the public hearing) was actully prepared during that earlier meeting."

Zablocki and others said, "This procedure makes a farce of the public hearing."

Recall Meeting Set for Monday

A public meeting to make definite decision on whether to institute recall proceedings against Charman H. L. (Jack) Cummings of the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock at Acalanes High School, Joseph Zablocki announced yesterday.

Zablocki, one of the coordinators of the newly formed Citizens Committee for Better Government, made the announcement following a week of fast-moving developments.

These developments included:

1. A MEETING of some 35 community leaders from Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga, Alamo, Danville and Diablo at Lafayette Town Hall Monday night.

At this meeting, conducted by Zablocki and Bob Miller, about 12 indicated they would be able to work for Cummings' recall with the support of their organizations, while others, although sympathetic to the idea of a recall, said they did not have any authorization from their groups.

2. After thorough discussion, it was agreed to have another meeting at Lafayette Town Hall next Monday night, at which people were asked by Zablocki to come prepared to pledge themselves and their organizations to the recall fight.

3 AFTER THAT meeting broke up and most of the people there had left, another meeting was held at Town Hall later Monday night, according to Zablocki.

At this second Monday night session were some of those at the first gathering and a number who had attended an earlier meeting that evening at a private home, Zablocki said.

4. This second gathering, attended by about 15 people, decided to name the recall-movement group the Citizens Committee for Better Government and decided to have recall petitions ready to be handed out "if the people at next Monday night's meeting are ready to go to work," Zablocki reportel.

5. ON WEDNESDAY Zablocki reported that the place for next Monday night's meeting has been changed from Lafayette Town Hall to Acalanes High School.

Zablocki said he expects "about 150 persons" to be at Monday night's gathering.

"About 40 people phoned me during the past week, asking me when something will be done to remove Cummings," he said.

"PEOPLE ARE REALLY aroused, and if petitions are circulated, I feel confident that the required 4000 signatures could be obtained in a couple of weeks—certainly by May 23."

Zablocki said that a "bill of particulars" against Cummings will be presented to the meeting at Acalanes.

Some of the items likely to be included in the "bill of particulars" were indicated last Monday night during discussion at the early-evening meeting.

"PEOPLE WANT Cummings removed because they feel that by his actions and remarks he has shown he is incompetent to function satisfactorily as supervisor from the Second Supervisorial District," Zablocki said.

Miller told the group that an effective recall petitions must bear signatures equal to 20 per cent of the vote at the last election. "That means about 4000 signatures," he said.

"The Board of Supervisors, upon presentation of petitions, must call an election to be held within 45 days," he continued.

GEORGE STANTON said the purpose of a recall movement would be "to restore government to the control of the people."

It was generally agreed that it is important to have a strong candidate to replace Cummings.

However, it was emphasized by several speakers that a "grass roots" convention method may be the most effective method of selecting such a candidate.

No decision on this point was made.

Recall Meetings Followed Other Sessions in Area

The exploratory meetings at Lafayette Town Hall Monday night regarding a possible recall of Supervisor H. L. (Jack) Cummings were the latest in a number of meetings on the subject during the past few weeks.

However, the meetings held in this area prior to Monday night were mainly of a different group of people.

Although all the people at these original meetings were for defeat of Cummings, the majority of them were uncertain as to advisability of a recall move.

They felt that perhaps it would be better to wait until the 1956 elections to try to unseat Cummings, according to reliable reports.

When Joseph Zablocki and others who attended some of these original meetings heard that the recall study was coming to a halt, they called last Monday night's meeting.

'Schools' Week Brings Throngs To Classrooms

Some 2500 persons thronged Orinda schools during this 36th Annual Public Schools Week at the various "open houses," according to an estimate made by Superintendent of Schools Joseph Sheaff.

Glorietta and Sleepy Hollow Schools held their open house periods Tuesday night. Girl Scouts served punch at the Glorietta all-purpose room and at the teachers' room at Sleepy Hollow.

ALSO AT GLORIETTA, the orchestra, under the direction of Gerald Meeder, and the glee club, under Sara Sableman, performed for the parents, teachers and friends.

Del Rey School's open house Wednesday night was an equal success, bringing many parents to the classrooms to see the work of their children and to meet the teachers.

A feature of the Orinda School celebration last night was the orchestra and glee club.

IN ALL THE schools, teachers had booklets on most of the desks, showing the progress of the students from last fall's efforts to the present.

Displays of projects in the "3R's" were posted on bulletin boards along with panoramas, art work, maps, and other exhiibts of scholarship.

Sheaff said about "90 per cent of the 1400 families in the district attended the open houses. When you add the children, there must have been about 2500 persons altogether."

He added, "Parents and teachers all agreed — 'it was very nice'."

Confusion Reigns At Moraga Hearing

3. That the plan for Moraga be adopted only after consideration of the "big ideas" of the county, and that it should be fitted into these concepts.

Soubielle told the commission that the Emergency Committee for Master Planning, which, he asserted, represents 54 improvement groups, is prepared "to use any legal means" to enforce "proper zoning" of Moraga.

After more heated discussion, Commissioner Joseph D. DeCosta of Orinda introduced the resolution ordering the hearing closed. The time was 1 a.m.

He moved that the zoning plan follow the recommendations of the general plan, except for the approximately 1100 acre area originally proposed for half-acre lots.

The resolution recommended that acreage to be zoned as follows:

The area north and west of the proposed freeway should be zoned to R-1-B (one-third acre or 15,000 square-foot).

ALL THAT AREA southeast of the proposed freeway be zoned A or Agricultural "for the protection of the people near St. Mary's College."

It was explained that the latter area, estimated at 185 acres, if zoned A, would place a "hold" on zoning for protection of the people in the area.

However, opponents charged the protection was "negligible" and that it was no guarantee against expansion of business zones in the area.

Soubielle said reduction of the half-acre zone to one-third acre would add to the problems generated by what he called "trying to squeeze 56,000 people through the tunnel."

COMMISSIONER YOUNG was the only one on the board voting against De Costa's resolution.

The room was in an uproar when the gavel came down closing the hearing.

A statement made by Commissioner R. S. Elliott at one point during the hearing seemed to sum up the chaos in the room.

Elliott said, "I'm completely confused."

Strict Fire Zone In Business Area Asked for Orinda

Proposal that the County Board of Supervisors establish a Fire Zone No. 1 for the mercantile area of Orinda was made to the supervisors Tuesday by Clarence Betz, Orinda Fire Board secretary.

Appearing before the board with William Koch, inspector for the Orinda Fire District, Betz suggested city-type requirements for business establishments in Orinda "to increase fire protection."

The supervisors continued the matter until May 10, meanwhile referring it to the fire chiefs' committee.

THE FIRE CHIEFS' committee is an advisory group appointed by the supervisors, consisting of three fire chiefs—Lloyd C. Edwards of Crockett, chairman; Allan Vargus of Concord and Clarence Viera of Martinez.

The supervisors said they would ask Edwards to have a recommendation from his committee "within two weeks," so that the county board can take action May 10.

Betz suggested that the supervisors ask County Building Inspector Rudy Kraintz to explain to them the detailed difference between a Fire Zone 1 and a Fire Zone 2.

He mentioned the new Planned Neighborhood Business District along the west side of San Pablo Dam Road as symbolizing a good opportunity to give greater fire protection to all Orinda business houses, through a Fire Zone 1.

"At present there is no Fire Zone 1 in an unincorporated area of the county," Betz told The SUN yesterday.

"A Fire Zone 1 means that the walls and roof of mercantile establishments must be of brick or concrete or some non-inflammable material.

"OUR SUGGESTION," we believe, would be an asset to the Planned Neighborhood Business District and to the entire community.

"Establishment of a Fire Zone 1 in the Orinda mercantile sections—the Crossroads, the Village and the new Planned Neighborhood Business District—would not be retroactive.

"Any new construction or any remodeling in excess of 25 per cent of the square footage of the building would have to adhere to the requirements of a Fire Zone 1.

"A Fire Zone 1 classification should result in a decrease in insurance rates."

MILDRED FARRAR, chairman of the Contra Costa County Women's Planning Council, told The SUN that Christian Wilder, developer of "Town and Country" type shopping centers at Los Altos and Los Gatos had told her that adequate fire protection could be effected for such places.

"He told me water outlets could be placed all over the ceiling, leading inward, and could be installed for about $500," she said.

Prowlers Get Camera, Lighter from Home

The home of Howard Bell, 38 La Cuesta, was entered while he and his wife were away at work April 16 and a camera and cigarette lighter was taken, he reported to the sheriff's office.

Entry was made by forcing a lock on the patio door, Bell reported.

He said he valued the camera at $20 and the lighter at $5. Jewelry and money were reportedly not touched.

C of C to Hear Arguments Over PIE's Proposal

Pros and cons on Pacific Intermountain Express' plans for a $750,000 office headquarters at the Pine Grove will be presented at the Orinda Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at the Willows.

President Ernest Poll announced yesterday that C. E. Johnson, PIE executive vice-president, will discuss his company's plans, with the aid of projected slide-illustrations.

Poll added that a representative of the Orinda Association will talk on the report of its Planning Committee.

The Planning Committee report objects to office-building use of the Pine Grove, maintaining the area should be used for community facilities.

THE ENTIRE MATTER is being presented to the community through the association's Civic Affairs Committee. Francis Violich, consultant to the Planning Committee, is preparing a report.

Association President Robert Boyle has announced that the association will not take a stand on the matter until the community has expressed its views.

CHAMBER DIRECTORS have decided to submit the matter to a vote of the chamber membership May 17.

"Anyone interested in the problem, particularly those who may have missed the last week's joint association board-Civic Affairs meeting, is cordially invited to our Tuesday meeting, whether or not he or she is a chamber member," Poll said.

This is your community! Attend meetings, participate, vote. Read about what is happening.

George A. Bauslaugh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

The telephone call that made Joanie's heart jump

Joan might be the girl next door. At 14, she's cute as anything. And you should have seen the look on her face the night Joe, one of the fellows in her class, called to invite her to the next school dance. Outwardly, Joanie seemed calm. But when her Dad nodded "yes" to her, she was almost speechless. After all—a first date happens but once. And when you stop to think of it, isn't it true that telephone calls herald many a big moment in our lives—reunions, weddings, births? Yet consider how little your telephone actually costs for all the ways it serves you. Isn't it one of today's best buys? Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Easy way to find gift ideas

With Mother's Day just around the corner, maybe you're doing some head-scratching right about now, trying to decide what to get Mom this year. But gift ideas needn't be hard to come by. Not if you use the Yellow Pages in your telephone book. Just start looking through them. You'll be surprised how many good gifts are suggested by the page headings. Even better, you'll find the telephone number and address of each seller on the same page. Why not try it right now, while you're thinking about it. Pacific Telephone.

Sanitary District Reaches Agreement On Sewer Problems in Country Club

A solution to the sewerage problems in the Diablo Country Club district was tentatively arranger the night of April 21 when directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District met in their Walnut Creek headquarters.

The board met with representatives of the Diablo Public Utilities District. Paul Wendt, chairman of the latter district's board, appeared before the CCCSD board.

THE AGREEMENT between the two boards, to be formalized later in contract form, calls for:

1. Annexation of the approximate 60-home, 150-acre area to the CCCSD.

2. The DPUD to install a line from the area to the nearest connecting point of the CCCSD line which is scheduled to be built this summer to serve the huge San Ramon improvement district.

3. The DPUD to pay the assessment unit cost for each parcel of land in its area. This, according to Gerry Horskotte, engineer-manager for CCCSD, would be approximately $182.50 per parcel, regardless of size.

4. ANNEXATION charges to be paid at time of connection.

5. The DPUD to bring its present sewer system up to CCCSD standards over a two to three year period.

Wednt estimated his district would require about $12,000 to rehabilitate its present system.

An agreement was reached that the DPUD would be allowed 15 years within which to tax itself to pay for annexation charges of the central district.

DR. HENRIK BLUM, in attendance at the meeting, said, "This represents progress on the problem. I will inform the supervisors of that Tuesday."

Blum referred to the fact that the DPUD was scheduled to present evidence last Tuesday before the County Board of Supervisors on progress made on the area's sanitation problem.

CCCSD Board President Irving Roemer asked Dr. Blum if the latter could attend next Thursday's public hearing on the 8500-acre San Ramon Valley assessment district.

Roemer said, in a jocular vein, "After all, you started this whole thing, you know."

Dr. Blum said he would try to attend.

THURSDAY'S HEARING is the next step in county and Sanitary District efforts to install a 36-inch sewer main down the greater length of Danville Highway.

The assessment district has been ordered by the County Board of Supervisors to finance the big line for service of the existing and future needs of the Danville-Alamo area.

County Health Department officials have declared the area's health problems, caused by inadequate lines and septic tanks, are of an "emergency nature."

Evidence that the CCCSD expects a large attendance for Thursday's hearing was given by Horstkotte, who said the Veterans Building in Walnut Creek has been reserved in case the crowd is too big for the district headquarters at 1882 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

IN OTHER BUSINESS April 21, the board:

1. Set May 26 for the opening of bids on four pumps and engines at the upper and lower Orinda pump stations.

2. Accepted annexation of the 242-acre Hughes Ranch south of Danville off Freitas Road. The ranch is to be subdivided by Oakland developers Groom-Moyer.

3. Engaged in lengthy discussion of district responsibilities in sewering the Sherwood Heights subdivision in Pleasant Hill.

DeTarr asked the board for an adjustment of expenditures he claimed were due to a mixup in estimating cost of the subdivision's sewers.

ENGINEER HORSTKOTTE replied his estimate of $4200 for cost of the sewers was based on "the best available evidence," and said DeTarr had failed to provide the district office with the contractor's low bid.

DeTarr replied the work had cost $5800 and that two owners of lots had already paid charges based on Horstkotte's estimate. He asked the district to reimburse him for expenses of collecting from the lot owners.

The board decided to revise cost of the contractor's work.

DeTarr told the board, "I'm still not satisfied." He indicated he would carry the matter further.

John Wasson, Dudley Deleray Open New Store

John Wasson and Dudley Deleray, with a combined total of 14 years experience in the local appliance business, yesterday opened a new business, Wasson's Appliances, at 3573 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

The partners' business is located in quarters formerly occupied by Offen's Hardware, next door to the Ben Franklin store.

Opening specials offered are big trade-in allowances on used appliances, Wasson said.

"We also feature such specials as personal radios for as low as $12.95," he added.

He lists Frigidaire appliances, Wedgewood Ranges, Packard-Bell and Philco television sets, and "many other standard make appliances—a complete, household line."

The Wasson service department will be maintained complete with home calls, he said.

Wasson and Deleray were formerly connected with the Appliance Center.

The Wassons, including himself, wife Ethel, and daughter Susan, a sophomore at Acalanes High School, live at 14 Los Arboles, Orinda. A son, John, is a jet pilot with the U. S. Navy.

The Delerays live at 258 Nob Hill Road, Walnut Creek. Mrs. Deleray is a teacher in the Walnut Creek School District. Son Arthur is a student at the University of California and son Robert attends Las Lomas High School.

Farm Bureau to Hold Annual Dinner

The Contra Costa Farm Bureau will hold its annual dinner tomorrow at the Masonic Temple Hall, 1765 Galindo Street, Concord.

Lorens Ford, the San Ramon Center chairman, is in charge of the dinner and program arrangements.

A turkey dinner will be prepared and served by the women in the Contra Costa Farm Bureau Department, Mrs. George Fox, the chairman.

The evening will also offer musical entertainment and R. A. "Dutch" Derr,, the amusing after dinner speaker.

UPSIDE DOWN landed the car driven by James P. Zwingle late Sunday afternoon on Upper Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, according to the California Highway Patrol. Lying on the ground near the overturned car is injured Leo Calestini, a passenger in the car. Kneeling over him are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palin. Sporting Goods Kellys to Open Lafayette Store

Kellys, well-known sporting goods and outdoor-living equipment firm, expects to open a new unit in Lafayette next Thursday at the former location of the Appliance Center, 3707 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, President Austin Kelly of the firm announced yesterday

Extensive remodeling is now being completed. The new retail store will have 13,000 square feet of selling space and a large parking area, the company president said.

"The store is being divided into different units," he said. "These include a 'Sun Valley' shop, primarily for casual-wear clothing for men and women; a section for underwater diving equipment, a section for motors and boats and a unit for custom gunsmithing."

KELLYS has been in existence since 1939. Its main store is at Telegraph Avenue at 25th Street, Oakland.

The three brothers who operate the firm have, with their families, been residents of Central Contra Costa County for many years.

Austin Kelly lives at 391 Camino Sobrante, Orinda; Cecil Kelly, vice-president, lives at 3449 School Street, Lafayette, and Eugene Kelly, general merchandise manager, lives at 2661 West Road, Lafayette.

Cecil Kelly, who handles the firm's Contra Costa County operations, will be in charge of the Lafayette store.

IN ADDITION to operating the retail organization, the Kelly brothers have Metro-Marine, Inc., a national distributing agency for underwater diving equipment.

According to Austin Kelly, the Lafayette store will be one of seven projected units. "Plans are also being made for units at San Jose, Sacramento, Fresno, Reno and Redding and possibly Honolulu," he said.

Utah-Moraga Zone Findings Ordered For County Board

After a five-hour session punctuated by confusion and controversy, the County Planning Commission Tuesday night approved a general plan for Moraga Valley and a "precise" zoning map for the same area. (See adjoining stories.)

The commission ordered its staff to prepare the zoning map in final form for the County Board of Supervisors, which is to set a hearing date Tuesday.

THE GENERAL PLAN becomes a part of the Planning Commission's records until it can be incorporated into the overall county master plan for the 14 planning areas, according to H. Russell Griffith, principal county planner.

Although much confusion surrounded the adoption of both plans Tuesday night, the main points arrived at seem to be these:

1. The zoning map approved by the commission calls for an 1100-acre area originally proposed by the general plan for half-acre zoning to be zoned for one-third acre lots.

2. The general plan's suggestion for a 104-acre controlled manufacturing district near Moraga townsite was approved.

THE UTAH Construction Company's approximate 4500-acre holdings in the Moraga Valley are now zoned in the following manner, according to Griffith:

RS (10,000 square-foot lot sizes)—about 1200 acres.

NB (Neighborhood Business, near Burton School and the Glenside district of Lafayette)—15 acres.

Controlled manufacturing — 103 acres.

Overflow Crowd Toasts Road Officials

An overflow crowd attended the dinner honoring state, county and local highway officials April 21 at the Orinda Willows.

The dinner, sponsored jointly by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation and the Orinda Association, toasted completion of the Orinda Interchange.

ERNEST POLL, president of the Orinda chamber, gave the welcoming address. Frank Durkee, state director of public works and chairman of the state highway commission, responded.

Durkee said, "Our compensation came in seeing the project completed." Other members of the state highway commission introduced were W. Sandelin of Ukiah, H. S. Chase of Sacramento and C. A. Maghetti, secretary.

T. Fred Bagshaw, special assistant to the director of public works, and Max Gilliss, deputy director of public works, were also introduced, along with the following state and district engineers:

George McCoy, chief engineer; B. W. Booker, assistant highway engineer for this district; L. A. Weymouth and Joseph Sinclair, district engineers, and Cliff Green, assistant district engineer.

George Beckwith, construction engineer, and Don Young, resident engineer, were introduced.

BOOKER TOLD THE gathering of his office's gratitude for the dinner, and said such appreciation for the efforts of the state division of highways was "not always the case" in other projects.

Bob Boyle, president of the Orinda Association, paid tribute to "the excellent work" of Frederickson and Watson, contractors who built the Interchange.

CHAIRMAN H. L. (Jack) Cummings of the County Board of Supervisors, welcoming the guests in the name of the county, said, jestingly, "You made my night a success when you said there'll be no talk about zoning or planning tonight."

He added, "We're indebted to the commission for the fine help" it has given the county.

Other supervisors introduced were Ivan T. Goyak, Ray S. Taylor, W. J. Buchanan and J. Frederickson.

THE LIST OF prominent guests also included:

Assemblyman Don Doyle, County Sheriff Harry Brown, Victor Sauer, county director of public works, and Chet Smith, Ray Brown and Basil Andrews of the County Road Department, Iona Booth, manager of the Contra Costa County Development Association.

Others were Ed Rowland, chairman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, past chairmen Elliot Hartman, Lloyd Holton, Larry Freen and Charles Nelson, Dean Watson, state commissioner of real estate, Oscar Frederickson of the construction firm.

Bill Sparling, manager of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, introduced Chester Stanley, Leland Sweeney, Chet Jordan, Andy Anderson and Howard Sipe of Oakland.

George Dodge of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce introduced the Fiesta queen candidates, one of whom will reign over the May 14-15 community celebration of the Interchange.

The Rev. Morrow Takes Oroville Post

The Rev. Fred R. Morrow will end his pastorate of almost 10 years in the Orinda Community Church June 5 to become minister of the First Congregational Church of Oroville, it was announced yesterday.

Under his leadership, and reflecting the post-war growth of Orinda, the Community Church has increased its membership from 74 in 1946 to its present active roll of 416.

The church property has risen from nothing to its present evaluation of $150,000.

Local lay leaders have said that "service to community" has become a leading characteristic of the church organization. Three churches of other denominations have been helped and encouraged through use of the Community Church facilities.

Mr. Morrow said the Oroville church is located "in an old, but growing city, and is one of the three oldest Congregational churches in Northern California."

Its congregation voted unanimously at a business meeting April 17 to ask for the services of Mr. and Mrs. Morrow.

The previous pastorates of the Morrow family were in Corvallis, Ore., Berkeley and Saratoga, Calif. They have three children, Marjorie Steger of Albuquerque, N.M., and Dorothy and Don Morrow, both of Orinda.

A committee of nine members, with Ralph E. Phelps as chairman, has been elected by the Orinda congregation to nominate a successor.

Church to Hold Smorgasbord and Concert Tonight

There will be a smorgasbord dinner and a concert by two outstanding artists for members and friends of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church at Glorietta School tonight at 7.

Dorothy DeMott Byrn, a resident of Orinda, is well known throughout the Bay area as a lyric soprano.

Her program will include two arias from Verdi's "La Traviata," Serenata" by Tosti, Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me," "When I Have Sung My Songs to You" and "Let My Songs Fill Your Heart," by Ernest Charles, "The Holy City" by Adams, and "I Know My Redeemer Liveth," from Handel's "Messiah."

Mary Taylor, concert pianist, will present a group of Chopin numbers including "Etude in E Major" and "Fantasy Impromptu in C Sharp Minor" and her own composition, "Variations on Favorite Hymns." She will also accompany Mrs. Byron.

Those who cannot attend the dinner may attend the concert which will begin at approximately 8:30 p.m.

'Schools' Week Brings Big Crowd To Acalanes H.S.

About 400 parents visited the various classrooms at Acalanes High School Monday night, marking the main observance of Public Schools Week.

The classroom visits followed a Parents Club meeting in the gymnasium.

THE CLUB HEARD a speech by Dr. Rixford Snyder, director of admissions at Stanford University. He gave "tips" on college life for the benefit of those parents with youngsters planning to take the higher education.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

The "open house" lasted from 8 to 11 p.m. Parents met teachers and saw such exhibits as art department work in the rooms and in the showcases in the hall and a floral arrangement in the cafeteria by the "Applied Art" department.

ACADEMIC DISPLAYS included maps and other features of the "3 R's."

Bookcases, gun racks and desks were among the displays of the woodshop students.

The Acalanes Student Council honored the teachers with a luncheon Tuesday noon. The occasion was the annual "Teacher's Day," which this year came during Public Schools Week.

Several students signed up to "give teacher a rest" by taking over a class period for the mentors. Designed to take some of the work off the shoulders of the teachers, the project "usually means more work for us," one teacher remarked with a laugh.

Jaycees Finalize Road-e-o Plans

Bob Boyles, Lafayette - Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce Road-e-o chairman, said yesterday, "We have the facilities to handle up to 100 contestants for the driving contest May 7."

Boyles urged all Acalanes High School drivers to arrange with their driving instructor to take the qualifying written examination before the event, which will start at 9:30 a.m. on the Acalanes High School grounds.

Other teenagers not attending Acalanes may take the written test next Thursday evening at 7:45 at the high school.

Boyles said, "Enter the contest and get your friends to enter. A great time will be had by all."

Merchandise prizes will be awarded.

The event will be handled by the local Jaycees with the assistance of the Sheriff's Department and the California Highway Patrol.

The Road-e-o is a series of driving tests calculated to show and teach proper car handling. The test of skill will produce two winners, who will be eligible to take a free trip to the state Road-e-o finals in Fresno.

State winner will enter the national finals.

214 Brownies

Having spent many weeks creating puppets, writing skits and designing scenery, the Brownies of Troop 214 gave three puppet shows for their mothers April 21.

Because of the large size of the troop the girls are rotated into three working groups and call themselves Minnie Ho Ho's, Minnie Ha Ha's and Minnie Hee Hee's.

EACH GIRL CHOSE a different country associated with the World Girl Scouts and costumed their puppet accordingly.

Then the three groups wrote their own plays to include situations for these foreign countries.

The troop plans to give shows at school, for other Brownie troops, and have been invited to perform for the Shadelands School.

Troop 214 has gone on many excursions including trips to the Art Center in Lafayette, the Telephone Company, the Jane Miller Doll Company, a nature hike in Tilden Park, the Girl Scout Show at Acalanes and a trip to Iceland.

They plan to visit the Planetarium in San Francisco.

AT PRESENT the girls are busy meeting Tenderfoot requirements and looking forward to repeating their father-daughter picnic that was a success last year.

Troop leaders are Mrs. Lloyd Hecathorn and Mrs. Joseph Brothers, assisted by Mrs. David Wallace and Mrs. Stanley Bergeson.

SUN Tour

Cub Scouts of Den 4, Pack 52, took a field trip to The SUN recently. Miss Kay Kammer of the SUN office took them on a guided tour of the offices, news room and press room.

The Cub Scouts who took the trip were Tommy Galvin, Larry Layne, Peter Venturini, Ronald Gustafson and Dean Swift. They were accompanied by Mrs. Florence Galvin, den mother.

Cub Pack 212

Wolf, Mike Little; Wolf and a Gold arrow point, Danny Williams; Lion, Dicky Palmer and Bob Ross.

Bobby Blue received Denner and Assistant Denner stripes. Two-year pins went to Dicky Palmer, Bob Ross and Steve Beckett. Jav Angelo and Ted Behr received one year pins.

The Webelos Den has been organized and consists of the following boys — Bobby Ross, Roger Roos, Dicky Palmer, Brian Traynor, Bruce Wilke, Ricky Merriam and Steve Beckett, who are meeting Friday evenings at Mr. Ross' home.

In keeping with the month's theme of forestry, Don J. Lewis, information officer, U.S. Forest Service, showed the boys and their parents a movie about preservation of forests and wildlife.

It was announced that baseball practice will be held Saturday mornings at Orinda School.

So as not to conflict with the Orinda Fiesta, next month's pack meeting only will be one week earlier than usual, on next Friday.

Baseball Win

The Cub Scout baseball league opened recently with Pack 52 defeating Pack 38 by the score of 17 to 10.

Bruce Nickerson, Pack 52 centerfielder, led the attack with three for four, including a home run.

The Pack 52 pitchers, Don Hildebrandt and Mike Smyth, gave up only five hits and Smyth was credited with the win. Pack 52 lost only one game last year.

Chamber Asserts Stand on Greeters

Mrs. Lippi appeared at the April 19 meeting of the chamber.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Community

"What Is A Christian?" is the sermon subject at the Orinda Community Church Sunday when the Rev. Fred R. Morrow preaches at the 11 o'clock public worship service.

The choir accompanied by Daniel Popovich, takes a leading part in the service, singing Foster's "Jubilate" under the direction of Mrs. Popovich. Aiding in the service is Ray L. Welles, student assistant.

Especially for parents of children in the Sunday School and other adults who prefer an earlier hour, is the 9:30 brief chapel service, followed by a Bible discussion under the leadership of Mr. Morrow.

All departments of the school hold sessions at that hour under the superintendency of Everett Howe.

An active youth program includes Sunday morning classes and an expanded activities program in two sections Sunday evenings. Jack Biersdorf counsels the Junior High Fellowship at 5:30, and Welles the high school young people at 6:30.

Lutheran

"The Way, the Truth, the Life," is Pastor Edward R. Andersen's sermon topic for the 8 and 11 a.m. services of Holy Communion at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church.

According to Mr. Andersen, the church joins "with all the Christian churches in asking members to "Open Your Home to God,, during National Family Week, which starts Sunday and will be observed through May 8.

"Families that worship together, stay together, for God's spirit of oneness of heart and mind is instilled into their wants and desires," Mr. Andersen says.

Family worship services, with communion at 8 and 11 a.m., will be held Sunday. Sunday School, with adult class, is at 9.30.

Episcopal

At two consecutive planning meetings, members of the Young People's Fellowship of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will schedule social and religious events to be held before the close of the school semester, according to Peter St. Hill, president.

Sunday at the usual 7 p.m. conclave, the Corporate Holy Communion and breakfast was slated for May 8 at 8 a.m., with Mrs. Jack Hightower appointed in charge of food for the event.

On this coming Sunday, plans will be formulated for the reciprocal party, with the teen-age group of St. Paul's Church in Walnut Creek to be invited as guests of the local group. Also on the Y.P.F. agenda will be the progressive dinner to be held in June.

Presbyterian

Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Park Theater, Lafayette, the Rev. W. Carl Thomas of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church will preach on the subject, "Suffering in the Body," another in the "Living the Life" series.

There is a nursery at this time at the Lafayette Town Hall for children four and under, and primary church for children from kindergarten through third grade.

Sunday school is at the Town Hall at 9:40 for children two years old and older, at the theater at 9:45 for adults.

Howard Reinheimer, an elder and teacher in the church, will conduct the "Truth to Live by" class at 8 p.m. Sunday, using as his subject, "What Can We Do about Justification?"

St. Stephen's Women's Group To Hold Meeting

The next meeting of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary will be Wednesday noon at the home of Mrs. Fred Kronke, 225 Glorietta Boulevard.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Jack Buchter, Mrs. Seavard Ballard and Mrs. John Bartlett.

Following the refreshments, the Rev. Charles M. Hill will introduce Dr. Rodenmayer, the speaker for the day, whose subject will be "The Woman's Place in the Parish."

Dr. Rodenmayer specializes in college work and theological teaching. Many of St. Stephen's Sunday school teachers were privileged to hear him when he addressed one of their meetings recently.

After the adddress, Mrs. Robert Bigler, chairman of the auxiliary, will conduct the business meeting.

Glorietta Group Adds Members

President Ben Olsen of the Glorietta Improvement Association announced yesterday that paid-up membership for the current year has hit an all-time high.

Credit for this success is due to the membership drive arranged by Don DeWitt and Treasurer Al Winsor, he said.

Members of the committee met at the home of Paul Pollaczek for a Sunday morning breakfast prior to conducting a house - to - house drive for membership.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors, Tuesday night, May 17, was selected as the date for the annual pot-luck dinner meeting of the association, at which time new officers will be elected.

The meeting will be held in the all-purpose room of Glorietta School.

NEW SWITCH

Offering tribute to all our teachers for the many hours spent cramming knowledge into battered little brains, the ever grateful students chose Tuesday to get even.

On this glorious day many of the inmates had a chance to teach one of their favorite classes, while teacher gazed nervously on. (This usually ends in both students and teacher wishing they had stayed home.)

To calm the nerves of our poor teacher after he had just watched his class being completely mutilated he was then sent down to a luncheon along with all other ruined members of the faculty.

In truth, Teachers' Day gives the student body a chance to show appreciation to teachers for the time and work they spend trying to make us better Americans.

GYM DANDIES

Something' new has been added and we think it'll be mighty great. For a change in the gym program, both girls and boys gym classes will get together for a co-educational class each Friday.

So far this new arrangement will pertain only to third and fourth period classes, but if the setup works out all right, it will be used for more classes next year.

MORE MUSIC

Following close on the heels of our operetta comes the "Musance."

This year it will be a love story and will be put on by the Music and Dance Group.

Among those participating in the production are Hope Davidsom, Sally Weidlein, Kathy Vale, Pat Whitehead, Cathy Greub, Joyce Hudd, Elley Gardner, Jane Seulberger, Nancy Richard, Judy Olson, Roberta Miles, Sally Freedman, Diane Kercheval, Nancy McCrum, Marilyn Englehard, Judy Fibush, Donalee Fey, Marilyn Day, Jean Galbraith, Sue Adair, Bitsy Burns, Lynn Cowling, and Patsy Daily.

Snail Powder Is Offered by Cooke

Cooke Laboratories of California recently placed on the market a new product called Cooke Slug-N-Snail Special Powder.

This special slug and snail powder is a bait pawder of neutral color, resembling the soil.

It contains no arsenic — no danger of soil sterilization, especially when applied around and close to sensitive plants such as young seedlings and camellias, gardenias and azaleas, which are surface feeders.

Gardenia Exotic Yet at Home Here

There is an air of tropical isle and luxuriant jungles about the gardenia. Its heady fragrance and waxy-white blossoms add an exotic note and yet seem right at home in the climate of California gardens.

An evergreen plant, the gardenia grows in two species. The jasminoides is by far the most widely planted and in this group are the Mystery, Veitchi and Radicans varieties.

The Mystery and Veitchi are the most common selection for California gardens, and they are used in florist shops too. The Radicans is a dwarf form 6 to 8 inches high, contrasting with the usual 6-foot growth of the Mystery and Veitchi.

Gardenia thunbergia is the second species of this plant. It is a more open, taller growing plant with pointed, long leaves and large white flowers measuring 3 inches across.

Spring Garden Show Opens Today; Many Locals Enter

Seven Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek garden clubs and other organizations, five of them award winners in last year's show, have entered exhibits in the 1955 Spring Garden Show, opening today at the Oakland Exposition Building.

The new exposition theme is "Rainbow Waters," different from anything featured before in the floral extravaganza, show officials announced.

A "new look" has also taken over other divisions of the show, with this year's accent on "do it yourself" displays and demonstrations.

SHOW HOURS WILL be from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily through next Friday. Family prices will prevail. Adults will be admitted for 90 cents from 8 to 11 a.m., and $1.25 from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. The Children's price will be 25 cents at all times.

Among entries are:

Alameda County Floral Society, with F. O. Pearce, 54 Charles Hill Road, Orinda, as project chairman. The organization will be seeking to repeat last year's achievement of winning first award in the special division, cut flowers.

CALIFORNIA Horticultural Society, also with Pearce as project chairman. In 1954, the society won first award in the special division for outdoor camping area.

Also in quest of their second consecutive awards are Diehl's Gardens and Orchard Nursery. William Diehl's exhibit in the Outdoor Gardens won first award in the special division for unusual iris varieties, while Orchard Nursery, with Jack Schneider, Tunnel Road, Lafayette, designing the entry, won first award in the special division for rhododendrons and African violets.

One of last year's winners, the Orinda Garden Club, will enter a new field for the current show. In 1954, the club won first award in the special division for contemporary design of sloping garden site.

Mrs. James D. North, 58 La Cuesta, Orinda, was chairman for that project.

At the 1955 show, Orinda Garden Club will be represented by table settings and flower arrangements of orchids and anthuriums. Mrs. Ronald Schacht is chairman for this spring's exhibit.

TWO ORGANIZATIONS are making their debut in award competition — the Lafayette Women's Forum, with Mrs. I. J. Clark as chairman, and the Concord Garden Club, Maxine Betram, chairman.

The Women's Forum has entered the amateur and novice arrangements division, and the Garden Club will also be represented in novice arrangements.

The main theme spectacle includes five illuminated fountain pools, giving the 1955 show its "sparkling new" appearance.

There will be spiraling water ladders, pyramiding water jets and elaborate fountains, all given a rainbow effect by multi-colored underwarter and overhead lights.

Lights will dramatize the areas set aside for exhibits of begonias, azaleas, rhododendrons, masses of rare orchids and "fields" of varihued iris.

Among sponsors invited to a preview showing last night were residents from this area. Clark Mathews of the Orinda Country Club played a leading part in handling local arrangements for preview participation, according to show officials.

Those sponsors included:

FROM WALNUT CREEK, Dr. and Mrs. James H. Hechtman, Col. and Mrs. Thomas M. R. Herron, Messrs and Mesdames E. P. Lazareschi, William J. McGuire and Fred van Guenthner.

From Lafayette, Dr. and Mrs. Rolland J. Brown, Richard L. Ghent, A. L. Meggs Jr., and Messrs. and Mesdames G. M. Greenwood, George T. Hansen, A. C. Helmholz, Howard C. Inman, Harry Martin, James R. Lantana Shrub Has Many Uses

A truly statewide plant is the lantana. For this shrub can be grown in its trailing, dwarf or medium forms to suit situations throughout all of California.

There are three forms of the lantana — the camara, the trailing lantana and the callowiana Goldrush.

The camara will grow to 6 feet as a shrub and 20 feet against a wall. Its leaves are dark green and it flowers in flat blooms that open yellow or orange and change to red and scarlet.

The trailing lantana is considered the hardiest of the family. It is low and rapid-growing, with trailing branches that reach 3 feet. Its foliage is made up of small leaves. Dense heads of fragrant lavender-pink flowers also appear.

Saffron-yellow flowers bloom on the callowiana Goldrush, which is a hybrid between the other two varieties.

The callowiana also has a trailing habit of growth, very graceful, with deep green foliage as a background for the colorful flowers.

DOROTHY DIGS in the garden

THE BIG MOMENT for your Camellias (and Azaleas, too) comes at the end of the blooming season. They have worked to give you a profusion of beautiful blossoms. In return, give them their well-earned food and rest. AND comfort in the form of a luxurious clean-up spray with SUPER-EMULSION . . . the spray that was made for tender beautiful plants like Camellias and Azaleas, and that can be used throughout the growing season. SUPER-EMULSON controls the many infestations most prevalent on Camellias at this time of year, without danger of injury to plants or soil. Camellias and Azaleas represent expensive garden investments and you cannot afford to provide anything for them that is less than the "best."

This is also the time to give them TRACE-TONE for more beautiful foliage and greater vitality. Use two tablespoons of TRACE-TONE to a gallon of water and sprinkle it into the soil in the root growing area. TRACE-TONE not only contributes mineral elements that are not available to the fibre roots but actually builds and sustains the kind of soil in which Camellias love to grow.

Orinda Here and There . . .

By ORINDA MOTHERS CLUB

BERKELEY TOUR

Ten children from Glorietta School, escorted by eight women representing the school and the various Girl and Boy Scout groups of the area, recently had a fascinating tour of the Pacific Coast office of the National Audubon Society in Berkeley.

The office has recently come to Berkeley, and Orinda children, being in a comunity nearby, will certainly profit from the wealth of material available there.

The adults who went with the children were Mesdames Margaret Anderson, Paul Barrett, H. S. Beasley, Raffi Bedayn, Robert Bowles, Abe Doty, H. Stewart Kimball and Frank Leibold.

This tour was arranged by Mrs. Raffi Bedayn, chairman of the wild life committee which has undertaken the project of developing a wild plant area and bird sanctuary around the creek on the Glorietta School grounds.

GUESTS AT TEA

Professor and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of 52 Oakwood Road entertained about 100 guests at tea Sunday afternoon.

The heavy rains of that day conveniently stopped between 3 and 5 o'clock so that the hardier guests could be outside on the terraces to admire the lovely spring garden [illegible] azaleas and bulbs under the oak trees.

Many of the friends are members of the faculty at the University of California where Professor Harper is a member of the history department. There were other Bay Area guests as well as numerous Orinda friends present.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

MARK WINTHERS

Mark Winthers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Winthers of 55 Hillcrest Drive, celebrated his eighth birthday April 8 at Tilden where an egg hunt, weiner roast and merry-go-round rides were enjoyed by all the boys.

Helping Mark celebrate were Danny and Laurie Winthers, Walter Altorfer, Johnny and Rickey Carr, Scott Babcock, Jim Coffey, Steve Curtis, Don McConnell, Payton and Johnny Jacob, John Winkler, Bob Miners and Chip Gardener.

CHRISTINE HOYT

Christine Hoyt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Hoyt of 9 Cresta Blanca, celebrated her second birthday one day early, on April 9, with all the Easter trimmings. After the usual opening of presents, Easter baskets, balloons, party hats and cake and ice cream were distributed to all the little guests.

Helping Chris celebrate the big day were Ann and Alice Libowski, Camilla Clement, Jim Benjamin, Stephen Morse, who recently changed his address from Orinda to Piedmont, Debbie Green from South San Francisco, and Chris' cousin from Grass Valley, Terry Thompson.

SECOND PARTY

[illegible] in the evening, Christine entertained at a buffet supper. Her guests were her grandmothers, Mrs. Violet M. Thompson of San Francisco and Mrs. Hazel Powers of Berkeley, her aunt and uncle from Los Altos, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Thompson; aunt and uncle from Grass Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Thompson, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green from South San Francisco. Last, but not least, Koko Hoyt.

Orindans Will Attend Reserves' Convention

Three Orindans will be among delegates to the California State Convention of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States at the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles, today, tomorrow and Sunday.

They are Lieut. Commander George L. Stanton of 228 Ivy Drive, president, Oakland Naval Air Station Chaper; Commander Guy B. Catterton of 316 Camino Sobrante, past president of that chapter, and Lieut. Don Tyson of 117 Hillcrest Drive, a member of the same chapter.

Dr. R. J. Oakes Cited by USAF

Dr. Robert J. Oakes, a Berkeley physician who makes his home in Orinda, was recently awarded a commendation ribbon at Stead Air Force Base in Reno.

The ribbon was given for Dr. Oakes' work in establishing a medical clinic for dependents at the base in 1953, it was announced.

It was reported Dr. Oakes provided more than $1500 worth of his personal instruments and equipment for the clinic.

The citation stated that Dr. Oakes, in addition to fulfilling his military duties, "spent many hours of extra duty each week and although handicapped by being understaffed provided excellent dependent care."

The doctor is a reserve captain in the Air Force.

Orinda Corporal in Exercise Apple Jack

Corporal Roy C. Miller, son of E. C. Miller, 34 Ardilla Road, is among 26,000 soldiers slated to participate in Exercise Apple Jack during May at the Yakima Firing Center, Wash.

Corporal Miller is a mail clerk in Company D of the 2nd Infantry Division's 72nd Tank Battalion at Fort Lewis, Wash.

A former student at Vallejo Junior College, he entered the Army in December, 1952, and completed basic training at Fort Ord.

Hal Arnots Fly Back for Visit

The Hal Arnots, formerly from Sleepy Hollow and since last year living in Seattle, flew down on the "Champagne Flight" last Thursday to visit their many friends and relatives and to introduce their month-old daughter, Beryl.

Sisters Robin and Laury, who had been staying with the grandparents in Carmel since the new arrival, were first in line to admire their lovely little sister.

A surprise coffee party was arranged by Mrs. James Irwin in their home on Van Tassel Lane.

Dr. Robert McEligot To Open Office Here

Robert C. McEligot, M.D., announces he will open his office at 3 Northwood Drive Monday for the general practice of medicine.

Booth No. 68. Learn what MARL-GRO can do to condition your soil.

For Gardens — Lawns — Flowers and Shrubs

MARL-GRO is a true natural soil conditioner. Known as "marl" since Biblical times, this rich, non-organic soil conditioner is mined at Pyramid Lake, Nevada, from a newly-developed discovery of prehistoric marine life — the only U.S. deposit of marl being worked.

MARL-GRO conditions your soil by restoring balance. It granulates heavy, crusty soil; improves moisture retention in sandy soil; releases plant food through improved bacterial action on organic matter.

Not a chemical, MARL-GRO cannot burn or blister vegetation. The action is mild, non-caustic and long-lasting. Economical, too. —

20 Lbs. covers 200 sq. ft. of Lawn or Garden

MARL-GRO SOIL CONDITIONER comes to you packed in newly-perfected, moisture-resistant 20-pound, 50-pound and 80-pound bags. Just spread, mulch-in and water.

Council Argues With Store Owner

Building Inspector Carrol Boswell reported to the City Council Wednesday night that he and Fire Inspector Al Streuli had met with owner Louis Albert to arrive at a settlement of building code violation at Bargain City, but that no understanding had been reached.

Bargain City is located in the former IDES Hall on South Main Street.

Boswell and Streuli declared that Albert had failed in the terms of his agreement by storing merchandise on the second floor of the building, in violation of the safety code, and storing merchandise around the outside, in violation of agreements signed by building owners.

ALBERT APPEARED in a stormy and, at times, hilarious hearing to defend his position. He said he would agree to all points except the removal of merchandise from the front of the store.

"I'm a law abiding citizen," he said. "There are a couple of men here picking on me. Everybody else has it (display space) so why shouldn't I."

Councilman John Connolly said that wasn't the point; that an agreement had been made and must be upheld.

"No," said Albert. "I wash it up every morning and my store looks beautiful. Firestone's got stuff in front, everybody else has."

CONNOLLY REPLIED, "The building has been condemned. The conditions under which you operate are wholly individual. You took the building with that understanding.

"I didn't sign anything," said Albert. "I want my attorney to be here. I've got my rights. You can't do a thing to me."

Connolly: "We can revoke your permit tonight."

Albert: "My permit doesn't say anything about it."

Connolly: "That's your business license."

ALBERT: "I'M being picked on, but people in town like me."

Councilman James McAdams: "How about the stuff on the second floor?"

Albert: "The load, you're right. I'll move it. But display doesn't hurt anybody. If others have display, I get it."

And this is where the discussion stopped, with the understanding that the discussion will be resumed at the May 4 council meeting when Albert will re-appear with his attorney.

Children's Hospital Aids Local Area

Children's Hospital of the East Bay is a unique institution, for it accepts both private and part-pay patients, children through 14 years of age.

Last year, 155 children from Lafayette, 127 from Orinda, and 219 from Walnut Creek were inpatients of the hospital — a total of 501 from this area.

Mrs. Fred Goodwin, Harry Jackson and Mrs. Harvey B. Lyon, all of this area, serve the hospital as members of the board of directors. For their services they receive no salaries or benefits.

Also serving the hospital from this area are 37 members of Walnut Branch, 35 members of Orinda Branch, 23 members of Lombardy Branch, and 18 members of Poplar Branch.

At Acalanes High School, 30 young women are members of the hospital's junior fund-raising group, Daphne Branch, and six girls from this area are members of the hospital's Hickory Branch, another junior group at the Anna Head School in Berkeley.

In addition to these women, about 150 residents of this area are members of other Branches of the Children's Hospital.

There is a continuing need for their work — and for the public to support their efforts in behalf of the hospital.

'Hansel and Gretel' Show To Trod Boards Tonight

Hansel and Gretel will journey tonight from a broom-maker's bare and hungry hut to a pink frosted, cookie covered house surrounded by a ginger bread fence and giant lollipops (owned by a wicked witch and not for sale at any price.).

The occasion, at the Orinda School auditorium at 8 p.m., is this season's first presentation by the Junoir Choir of the Orinda Community Church of the operetta "Hahsel and Gretel," adapted from Humperdinck's opera.

HANSEL (PERRY POPOVICH) and Gretel (Diane Kersten) on their journey are sung to sleep by the Sandman, guarded by 14 angels, and awakened to the dancing of dew fairies.

They encounter a terrifying witch and dispose of her efficiently in a way which is secret to no adult and a source of delight to children.

The operetta, under the direction of Margaret Popovich, is sponsored by Clipper and Shipmates Clubs of the Community Church, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gulich and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Creighton, skippers.

Its performance and production for four years have offered the youngsters of Orinda a creative experience in music-drama under professional direction.

HARD WORKERS BEHIND the scenes were under the following committee chairmen:

Tickets, Mesdames Emory Davis and Leland Atkins; scenery, Mesdames James Chapple, W. N. Clyatt and Andrew Blalock; special scenery, Richard Copenhagen and Albion Harmon; props, Mrs. Douglas Frame; stage crew, Luther Gulick and Roy Clark.

Costumes, Mesdames Arthur Weatherbe, Clinton Hallsted and Tevis Thompson; publicity, Mesdames Charles Nelson and Emory Davis, and posters, Mrs. D. M. Anderson.

Lights, A. C. Flenner; sound, Al Stiles and Ed Richards, and makeup, Mesdames Elbert Wayne and J. R. Still.

CHILDREN IN "Hansel and Gretel" have been coached musically by Margaret Popovich and dramatically by Margaret Popovich and Charlette Chapple.

Mrs. Chapple has also been responsible for stage and costume design. Helen Brattain has done choreography and training for the dancers.

In addition to tonight's performance, there will be two tomorrow afternoon, at 2 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Emory Davis, CL 4-5287, or Mrs. Leland Atkins, CL 4-5145.

As recently - reelected head of California's federated Democratic clubs, Cranston will outline the council's 1955-56 program. dinner in his honor will precede the meeting, according to Bruce Doerner of Pleasant Hill, Contra Costa Democratic Federation vice-chairman, who will preside.

Four central county delegates to the council's March 19 and 20 convention in Fresno will give brief reports, and general discussion will follow.

Eugene Braselton of the Concord Valley Club; Mrs. Frank Hoff, Central Contra Costa Democrats; Paul Katz, North Concord Democrats; and Namon K. Little, Pleasant Hill Democrats, will be the local speakers.

College to Host Press Convention

Two hundred or more student delegates and journalism counselors are expected to participate in the 23rd annual Western Catholic High School Press Convention tomorrow at St. Mary's College.

In conjunction with the convention, a record number of newspapers from high schools in the western states, Hawaii and Alaska this week are being studied and evaluated for trophies to be awarded at the conclusion of the convention.

Sponsored each year by St. Mary's journalists from the staffs of The Collegian, campus newspaper, and The Gael, student yearbook, the 1955 convention is being directed by Barry Redfearne of Porterville.

Suggests 3 Groups From Council on Area Problems

A suggestion that the Orinda Association, Lafayette Improvement Association and the Utah Construction Company form an "Acalanes Community Council" to speak for the Lafayette-Orinda-Moraga areas in the present situation has been submitted to the three organizations.

The suggestion is by Harry L. Morrison Jr., executive director of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association, who, in submitting the suggestion, states he is speaking only as a "student of local government and not representing the views" of his group.

The suggestion came in the form of a letter, copies of which went to the three above-mentioned organizations as well as the Acalanes Taxpayers Committee, the Women's Planning Council and the Planning League of Contra Costa County.

Here are excerpts from Morrison's letter to the Orinda Association:

"The suggestion which I would like to make is for your association to consider appointing a committee to meet with the two other groups mentioned above to discuss the possibility of forming an Acalanes Community Council to serve as the joint spokesmen for the three areas in their present problems and future development.

"There has been much discussion of the separate problems of Orinda, Lafayette and Moraga, but practically no discussion of the many problems which these regions have in common.

"An example of this type of thinking is that planning is now proceeding on the assumption that each of the above areas will become separate cities.

"I suggest the possibility that many of the present policy planning problems of the area might be solved if they were approached with a consideration that the three regions were in reality integral parts of a larger community.

"Realistically it must be admitted that there would probably be no difference between Lafayette and Orinda if E.B.N.U.D. had pursued a different land disposal policy and there had not been created the artificial separation between the areas.

"Consideration should also be given to the possibility that if these three regions were considered as one community, there would be strong advantages to having a large controlled manufacturing and commercial zone on the Utah Construction Company's property in Moraga, and perhaps refusing to allow the infringement of controlled manufacturing in Orinda.

"However, if each of these areas is to be considered as a future city, each will probably have to zone for different types of development in order to have an adequate tax base."

Folk Dancers Plan Gala Spring Dance

The Diablo Council of Folk and Square Dance Club will hold its fourth annual spring party tomorrow at 8 p.m. to midnight at the Pittsburg Community Gymnasium.

Coffee and tea will be served, but guests are requested to bring their own sandwiches and cake.

Over 250 Dog Owners Prepare For Show Sunday

Breaking all records for entries in northern California Dog Obedience Trials, Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club's eighth annual show Sunday in Walnut Creek City Park has almost 250 entries. it was announced today by Carl Hatfield, club president.

Two additional judges, besides those already approved by the American Kennel Club for the event, must be called in to judge the unexpectedly large classes, according to Trial Secretary Alice Jeffrey. This is about 100 more dogs than in the largest trials recorded in northern California, she said.

Dogs of all breeds, from Chihuahuas, Pomeranians and other toy varieties to giant Irish Wolfhounds and Great Danes will compete in the trials, toward qualifying scores which will gain them AKC Obedience titles of Companion Dog, Companion Dog Excellent and Utility Dog for the most advanced.

Professional handlers as well as amateur trainers from all parts of the west coast will compete for over 150 trophies and prizes, in six rings set up on the park lawn.

Dog Trainers Hold New Course

Taking a vacation this week, Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club members announced that the new eight-week course in Novice Obedience Dog Training will start Wednesday in the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

Beginners' Class will be at 7:30 p.m., and "brush-up" for those who have completed one course will be given at 8:30 p.m., each for eight weeks.

The class is jointly sponsored by the Walnut Creek Recreation Commission, and teen-agers are especially invited to bring their pets for training, according to Carl Hatfield, president.

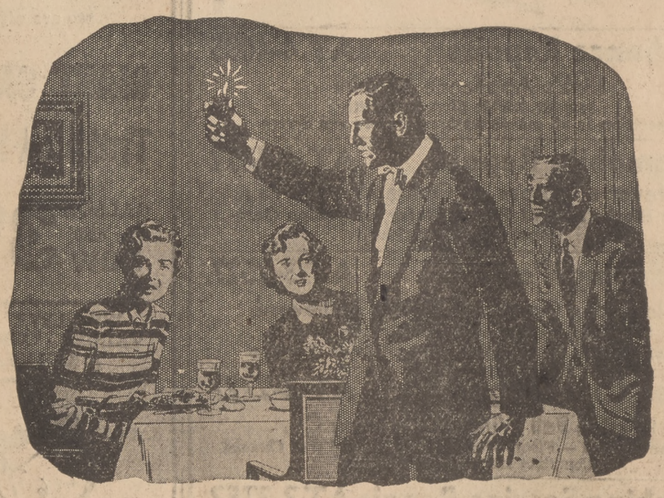
should fuses blow in a new home?


If you're building or remodeling, insist on adequate wiring!
Four out of five houses today—new homes included—are unable to handle today's electrical demands because of inadequate wiring. Fuses blow, lights flicker, and there aren't enough outlets for all the appliances and lighting fixtures.
To make sure the home you're planning to build or remodel has the right wiring—for all your appliances and lighting—call in a qualified electrical contractor. Easy payment plans for modernized wiring are available at most of California's leading banks and lending agencies. Make the most of modern electric living with a dependable, adequate wiring system.
Insist on a Certificate of Adequate Wiring from your builder or contractor. It's your proof of a first-rate job!

Prep Squads Step Up Game Schedules

Team Schedules For High Schools Increase Tempos

Starting today the county preps swing into a full round of action, with athletes and coaches stepping up the pace, in view of the lay-off due to the recent rains.

Another important factor in the stepping-up tempo is the fact that county meets are just around the corner.

Also, the baseball race will be at two-a-clip pace, with the championship in the offing plus a place for the top four teams in the tournament to be held at the conclusion of the season.

TODAY THE TRACK teams of Acalanes, Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill High Schools engage in a triangular meet at the Pleasant Hill oval.

Next week is the big one for track, with the county track trials taking place at Pittsburg Wednesdayday, starting at 3 p.m.

The finals get under way on Saturday, May 7, at Pittsburg, with the opening event the 120-yard high hurdles set to go at 1 p.m.

THE ACALANES Don swimmers paddle against Diablo at Concord next Tuesday and then man their forces along with Pleasant Hill, Las Lomas and the rest of the water athletes for the county swim meet to be held at the Las Lomas pool.

The Don horsehiders will swing their bats Tuesday when they host Las Lomas in a makeup game previously rained out.

On Thursday the Dons travel to Antioch for the week's league game at 4 p.m.

Las Lomas golfers will face Antioch at Antioch Tuesday while Pleasant Hill trades strokes with Pittsburg at the Steel City links the same day.

The tennis teams play the same days and same places as the baseball squads.

TODAY the Las Lomas swimmers hit the road and meet in a three-way affair involving St. Ignatius and Drake at the Drake pool in Marin County.

Las Lomas and Pleasant Hill play 4 p.m. league baseball game next Thursday.

Pleasant Hill will also play a makeup game with Pittsburg Monday at the Pleasant Hill diamond, starting at 4 p.m.

A NEW RECORD! As Bryan Bachigalupo strains over the finish line, a new 440 yard relay record is set by the Acalanes B track squad. The time was 46.7, which broke the old mark of 47.3 set in 1947. Others who helped set the record were: Pete Dahlstrand, Dick Hammond and Ricky Davis.—Acalanes Blueprint photo

Weatherman's Antics May Have Effect on High School Baseball Race

By ERWIN MATTSON

IT SEEMS AS IF the weatherman has had difficulty predicting weather with any great percentage of accuracy.

I stated in this column last week that the dry spell had enabled spring sports to stay on schedule and what happens?

The weather comes in the form of winter, with rain, hail and winds that soak the ground to such an extent that athletic events, with the exception of swim meets and the Alhambra Relays held last Saturday, were washed out.

It is liable to have a very definite effect on final standings in baseball. The second round involved only one game a week, but that is changed now, with two a week in order, with the postponed games on tap in the dry spots.

That means that pitching strength must be two deep, and it will make the pennant race, in all probability, go down to the wire.

Pittsburg's Pirates are currently out in front by a one-game margin, with the schedule about a third of the way through.

Teams will be pointing for them now, and the pressure will be on.

DIABLO AND Pittsburgh tangle in the season's big dual track meet today, and it should throw much light on how the county meet will go on Saturday, May 7, at the Pittsburg track.

The Diablo Devils withdrew from the Alhambra Relays last Saturday, and there was considerable feeling over the incident.

Diablo's reason was that a wet track presented too much chance for injury. The Devils had serveral runners pull up with sore muscles in the El Cerrito Relays two weeks ago, on a cold and windy day.

The Alhambra track, while not tops, provided surprisingly sure footing and resulted in some record times.

Alhambra wasn't enthusiastic over Diablo's withdrawal, and Pittsburg was disappointed in not seeing the Devils in action.

It remains to be seen if the lay-off helped or hindered Diablo.

The big county meet definitely rests between the two.

County to Receive Funds for Parks

Contra Costa County would receive $648,749 of State funds for the development of recreational areas within the county under terms which would provide approximately $32 million for a full-scale statewide recreational program, it was announced this week.

"The plan is both equitable and sensible," Senator Randolph Collier asserted. "It makes certain that every county of the State will have an opportunity to develop recreational areas both for the enjoyment of their own citizens and for the benefits to be derived from tourist trade.

"For every dollar invested in developing recreational areas in this State, the return will be ten-fold in terms of new money brought into the State."

Wine-Taste Tour Will Aid Orphans

There will be a wine and champagne tasting tour at the Cresta Blanca Winery in Livermore on Saturday, May 14, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., to benefit the Orphans of Italy, Inc., the Italian Bays' Town at Casteletto Ticino, near Milan.

Mrs. Matteo Gavotto of Gloria Terrace, Lafayette, is chairman of the Alameda-Contra Costa Chapter of Orphans of Italy, Inc. Reservations may be made by calling her at YE 4-6867. Luncheon will be served at 1 p.m.

Orinda Association Really 'Goes to Bat' for Orinda

Every once in a while it's a pretty good idea to pause, take a deep breath and reflect on the important work the Orinda Association has done and continues to do for this community.

Why? Because year in and year out — spring, summer, fall, winter — the Orinda Association goes "to bat" for Orinda.

It doesn't do this in a smug, self-righteous way. Rather, it conscientiously strives to represent the entire community and to reflect the sentiments of the residents of Orinda.

A case in point is the current controversy over use of the Pine Grove — whether or not to agree to Pacific Intermountain Express' plans for a $750,000 office headquarters there.

Despite the fact that the Orinda Association's planning committee came out strongly against such use of the Pine Grove and that the committee as well as the County Planning Commission favored use of the Pine Grove for community facilities, the Orinda Association board is not rushing matters.

Instead, it is taking steps to make sure that the entire community thoroughly understands both sides of the controversy and that board action will not come until community opinion is known.

Another example of this highly commendable fairness is the incorporation study.

Thorough discussion of the various aspects of the Coro report prepared for the association have been going on for some time by the incorporation study committee, following last fall's Town Hall meeting at Orinda School auditorium.

The Coro Foundation was retained by the Orinda Association to prepare its detailed report. Cost of this report was $800, half of which was paid by the Orinda Association and half of which was paid by various neighborhood associations.

The incorporation study committee, headed by Frank Cayting, and the planning committee, headed by James Hupp, are but two of many examples of the constructive activity of the Orinda Association for the welfare of Orinda.

The Orinda Association's whole-hearted cooperation in the preparations for the May 14-15 Orinda Fiesta celebration is proof (if proof were needed) that the organization is a forward-looking group of officers and members, and not a collection of dour-faced fanatics.

In other words, all its varied activities mark the Orinda Association as an improvement organization in the real sense of the word — and show that it is not an "anti" organization "agin" almost everything.

All these facts should be obvious. But they're worth emphasis and reflection, so that we don't "lose sight of the forest because of the trees."

Public Schools Week Offers Tribute to Staffs, Parents

Public Schools Week, observance of which has been going on all week, offers all of us the opportunity to "take stock" of our school systems and of our participation in school activities.

This interest, demonstrated in many way throughout the school year, is in marked contrast to the apathy often found elsewhere, except in contested school trustee elections.

The sort of citizen-interest typical in this ara makes for intelligent cooperation of parents, teachers and school trustees.

This cooperation is fittingly symbolized by the Open House programs and other activities of Public Schools Week, during which the schools and the homes are again brought closer together.

Parents, teachers, students, trustees and administrators have been meeting one another again, in the friendly atmosphere of Public Schools Week observance — and as a result have a better appreciation of one another's problems and accomplishments.

Public Schools Week reminds us all to vote in the May 20 school trustee elections.

Particularly appreciated are the hard work and continued cooperation of faculties and staffs at all our schools.

These heartening developments bode well for the future of our schools and our communities. They pave the way for ever-improving educational systems for our children.

What They Say...

Daylight Saving Time Is Debated

Clocks wore sad faces Sunday after a bad night.

Battered and bruised, wound up and tense from being shoved ahead, they looked more like notrious topers on New Year's morning.

THE EXPLANATION was simple. Daylight Saving Time took effect.

Besides the wear and tear on the clocks, what about Mr. and Mrs. Central Contra Costa? How do they like DST?

Our researchers got the phones busy. Here are the opinions gathered:

"TERRIBLE," frankly answered Mrs. William Christiansen of 18 Greenwood Court, Orinda. She added, "I think it ruins the children's schedule. It wouldn't be so bad if they'd wait a month or so until summer vacation starts, though."

Mrs. I. A. Moreskine of 84 El Gavilan, Orinda, took the opposite view. "I think it's wonderful," she said. "It seems to give us extra leisure time at night. We have to get up early in the morning, anyway."

Mrs. Donald R. Kowalski of 959 Hough Avenue, Lafayete, said, "Sometimes I think it's a nuisance. It seems to speed things up, like getting dinner at night. Also (she laughed) we were gypped out of an hour's sleep."

"I LOVE IT, really," answered Mrs. F. O. Reas of 939 Dewing Avenue, Lafayette. "I'm an early riser. After sitting at a desk all day, it gives you more light to work outside in the evening."

Mrs. Clarence J. Damgaard of 207 Poshard Street, Pleasant Hill, commented, "It's wonderful out here. I can now come home after work and get a little rotor-tilling done."

"I think its' grand. We'll now get a chance to get a little outside gardening done after dinner," exclaimed Mrs. Richard C. Hansen of 1431 Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Gene Ahlf of 2290 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek, said, "I'm definitely in favor of more daylight hours after work for gardening or recreation."

Also in favor of daylight saving time was Mrs. Raymond Perona of 1873 Helen Road, Pleasant Hill, who said, "It's nice for the husbands. They can get home from work and enjoy the good weather we have out here."

GOOD FOR WHAT AILS YOU

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

The history of county government shows that such a governmental structure was never designed to handle the problem of large, growing, populated areas.

By law, counties are administered under the direction of five supervisors. Any one supervisor may have as many as five or more communities to represent. Therefore any one community may have as little as 1/25th of a voice in running county affairs

It is inherent in such a system that each area is regulated in county planning and service to its position in relation to the county as a whole, and decisions are made accordingly.

MOST OF US want to see our area develop into a fine suburban residential community, with business interests taking a secondary position in relation to planning for such a residential area.

This places the resident as a member of a special pressure group seeking its desires along with shopping centers, tract development, industry, etc.

THE EFFORTS on the part of planning groups, improvement clubs and taxpayer committees are a terrific asset in helping to secure more interest and planning on the part of the county, but in the final analysis there are but two choices: either work with the county and within its governmental structure or choose some form of local government administration.

Investigation shows that in nearly every case of incorporation in California during the past 10 years the underlying reason was based on obtaining local planning control.

WHOLESALE condemnation of county officials seems neither fair nor the best method of achieving the desired results.

It might well be proved once again that the system of county government is what is inadequate and that in order to have control over local decisions, the problems must be shouldered locally instead of 10 miles away in Martinez.

TED BARCELON, Chairman,
Lafayette-Orinda Junior
Chaber of Commerce
Governmental Affairs
Committee.

(Following is a copy of a letter sent to H. L. Cummings, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, by Adam Root of Lafayette. Mr. Root sent the copy to this paper).

Dear Sir:

You were given a definite mandate from the people of Contra Costa County on the Moraga matter. From a recent newspaper article it appears that you choose to ignore our mandate completely, as well as your duty as head of this county government.

Instead, you choose to give to a big corporation the consessions it needs in order to make money out of this county. You choose to criticize the County Planning Staff for trying to do the job we ignored taxpayers have hired it to do.

It is no doubt futile to write you this. But we would like to say that we hope your rewards will be worth what you are forfeiting — the respect of your fellow workers and citizens.

After your many years in county office, we hope it will be worth it to you to leave as the epitaph of your reputation: "H. L. Cummings, the man who allowed the beautiful Moraga Valley to become another East Oakland."

We the voters do not choose to ignore your actions, sir. Though there is little we can do to change your policies, we do not mean to let this situation pass without trying to do something about it—whether this entails a change in the membership of our county government or a cnange in the very form of the government itself.

Sincerely,
Adam Root.

Women Voters Fighting Bill

In a statement sent today to each member of the assembly, the league of Women Voters of California opposed legislation which would create a non-partisan legislature. Senate Bill 803 which was passed by the senate on April 6 has been referred to the Assembly Elections Committee.

The bill is strongly opposed by the league on the grounds that it would cancel a mandate expressed by the voters in the November, 1952 election which required state ballots to show party affiliations of candidates, cancel the purpost of primary elections, eliminate open competition between political policies and programs, create a "fantastic and inexplicable conflict between the legislative and executive branches of government," and eliminate experienced partisan state office holders who might graduate to national office, said Mrs. L. A. Doyle, public relations director of the Walnut Creek branch.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

You may be interested in the following editorial which appeared recently in the Alamo Argonaut, under the heading, "Cummings' Challenge:"

"Having fully recovered from their initial shock at the stormy opposition encountered in recent months from the residents of Central Contra Costa, the developers and the Board of Supervisors (acting on their behalf) have regrouped and are once again confidently brandishing the club of authority.

"This is a good lesson in practical politics for anyone naive enough to believe that power is seized. The prizes are too great to be lightly dismissed, and attendance at a few hearings is not in itself sufficient to alter the course of million dollar deals. So now that your bluff has been called, Mr. and Mrs. Suburbia, what will you do? 'Boss' Cummings has jutted his generously proportioned jaw, tweaked you on the nose, not once, but three times, and then asked 'what are you going to do about it?'"

We'd like to suggest that first of all you get over being mad, recognize that, far from throwing in the towel, the opponent has come back with his second wind, and start a little careful, cool and intelligent maneuvering until you can get him into position for a solid punch to the body. The board, and particularly 'Boss' Cummings, has demonstrated that it is the errand boy for the big developers, who will now want to make every blow count, against the day when you might succeed in dislodging them from the court house dome. This is just the beginning of a long, tough fight, so don't be tricked into dropping your guard for a moment."

Name withheld on request.

(Editor's note: Following is a letter sent to the chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, a copy of which was also sent to The SUN):

Chairman, Board of Supervisors
Contra Costa County
Martinez, Calif.

Dear Sir:

We dont' like the unfair dealings we are getting in this county. The supervisors are getting what they want—the people are not.

We have three courses of action open to us in this situation:

1. WE CAN MOVE out of the county.

2. We can sit and watch our property depreciate while you ram your messy spot zoning down our throats, or

3. We can fight you who are pushing through the kind of zoning that is profitable only to its developers.

We don't want to move out of this county, Mr. Chairman. If you ram anything more down our throats we will choke.

So actually only one course is open to us. We must and we will fight.

Sincerely,
Wilford O'Brien
Determined Resident

Dear Editor:

Mr. H. L. Cummings, chairman of our County Board of Supervisors, was recently quoted in the press as stating that he does not know what master planning is all about. I would like to attempt to explain to Mr. Cummings in a simple manner what master planning is.

A man plans his education. He plans wah his occupation will be as part of his plan of the future. He plans his wedding day, his wedding party and trip. He plans a budget. He makes plans for a home. He plans the landscaping for that home. He mayes a longe-range plan for furnishing it. He has a family. He plans for his family's security through a life insurance program. He plans for the education of his children. Finally he makes a plan for his own security in his old age and retirement.

The county master plan implements the master plan of a man's life. It plans the schools for his education, the place for his occupation, the church for his wedding, the roads for his travels.

The county plans a community where the lot on which a man places his home will be protected by zoning restrictions that will maintain a home's value as a place for him to live.

The county plans where the shops will be so that a man may buy his furnishings. Again it provides the schools for his children. It plans the kind of place for his retirement wherein he can rest in peace from his labors.

A man's life is a master plan and his master plan is a county's responsibility.

Clair Roach.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

It affects you every day

Let's talk about Martinez.

Now — if Snoopy, the office cat, were here, he'd probably say, "What an uninviting subject for the beginning of your column."

Well, fortunately, Snoopy is in the composing room chasing mice instead of criticizing the illogic of my column.

But I wouldn't agree that "Martinez — the seat of our county government" is a dull subject. Whether we like it or not, what happens in the county offices at Martinez affects our lives every single day. This column is not going to be a primer on county government, nor am I going to deliver a paper on political science. But let's discuss a few examples of how county government affects us.

Watch out for chuckholes

Is the road near your home being rebuilt or resurfaced? If so, it is probably a county road and the work is under the supervision of the county highway department. Just a few years ago rebuilt county roads fell apart almost as soon as they were reconstructed. There were many reasons for this — but primarily because the department was very poor. And that is putting it mildly.

You and I are still paying for those poorly constructed county roads and are paying to have them rebuilt again.

Fortunately, the situation has changed. Let's give credit where credit is due. Our supervisors selected an outstanding man to head the department. Vic Sauer straightened out the long-existing mess and is doing an excellent job.

I hastily add: If our supervisors would throw politics out the window and select the best personnel available, our county would not be in a mess. Our growing pains and problems are tough enough — without being administered by cow-county government.

This is not a wholesale indictment of our county government. There are some excellent men and good departments in Martinez but even they are hamstrung by politics. Problems are too often decided by "Who you know" — and not on the merits of the case.

March to Martinez

Look at the empty property next door or down the street. Keep a careful watch. because, if you don't, you may wake up some morning and see a new business building or a new plant or an apartment house. There is nothing wrong with business, light industry or multiple-residential dwellings—if they are located at the right site.

And that, of course, is planning and zoning. We have a county planning department, which is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars. Able planners have been hired. They are under a Planning Commission, which answers to the supervisors.

And yet what happens when the property down the street is going to be zoned or rezoned? You, Mr. and Mrs. Resident, or the officials of your improvement association must jump on your horse and dash over to hearings in Martinez.

Politics and pressure

Why? Because too often zoning applications are decided by politics and pressure and not on their merits. Residents of our community have learned the hard way that only by public pressure can the public's welfare be guarded.

We have experts on the planning staff and a planning commission but frequently they are over-ruled by our board of supervisors. It has come to the point where H. L. "Jack" Cummings, chairman of the board and supervisor from district 2, openly ridicules the county planning authorities. Yet, the county hired these men to do a job.

This is a very serious situation which affects you and your property and the future of the county. Remember, you have an investment in this county.

Shall we talk about taxes? No, that's a thesis in itself, except to say that political, inefficient, cow-county government costs you extra taxes. If this sounds like wild generalizations, just read the grand jury reports for the past six years.

A political bomb

If the Lord is merciful, an A or H bomb may not drop next week or next year. But what if it does? What protection will you receive from civil defense? That's a good question. Until recently you would have received very little civil defense. It has been a political football—ineffective, poorly administered.

Sheriff Harry Brown turned it over to an assistant, Lester Clark, who has done an excellent job. Knowing the importance of CD, Brown recommended establishment of a separate department. The supervisors concurred and have offered the top post to Milan Steig, one of the nation's top CD authorities. But the supervisors have offered Steig a "provisional" appointment—temporary with civil service exams to be held later.

To accept the post, Steig must leave an excellent civil service job with the federal civil defense administration and would receive less pay. As I understand it, the sole reason he would consider this, is to be able to return to his home in Pleasant Hill and be near his only son and son's family. Steig was formerly an official of the federal civil defense school at St. Mary's College.

It is doubtful if Steig will accept the appointment on a provisional basis. If there is any doubt, there should be a civil defense exam for the position now. We need Mr. Steig.

Well, I didn't intend to get off on a fire and brimstone lecture today. But I said it—and I'm glad. And that is all.
